

Dawn-To-Dusk Trip Across U. S. Fails Near Journey's End

Lieutenant Maughan Is Forced To Give Up
Because of Leak in Oil
Cooling Tank.

AVIATOR MAY MAKE
NEW ATTEMPT SOON

Army Officer Declares
Another Attempt To
Span Continent in Day
Is Up to Washington.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Rock Springs, Wyo., July 19.—
Failure marked the second attempt within ten days of Lieutenant Russell
L. Maughan, army aviator, to span the North American continent between dawn and dusk today when an oil leak forced him to land here at 5:08 p. m., mountain time. He had traveled more than two-thirds of the United States, a total of 1,925 miles,
and he was hurrying toward his goal
at a speed of 170 miles an hour, after leaving three of his five scheduled stopping points behind him in his race with the sun when he was forced to descend.

A tiny stream of oil, spurting
from an almost invisible aperture in the oil cooler of the Curtiss pursuit plane, necessitated the cancellation
of the flight.

A similar leak had caused nearly
an hour's delay at Cheyenne, Wyo., his third stopping place, shortly after noon today, and Maughan was driving his motor at top speed to regain lost time. For more than 200 miles westward from Cheyenne, the motor raced smoothly, but at Rock Springs the cooler began suddenly to leak. Maughan passed over the air mail field at 4:58 p. m. determined to continue to Salado, Utah, the next stopping place.

As the fumes from the escaping
oil became stronger however, he turned back and landed at the almost deserted field.

A brief examination by two pilots convinced Maughan that it would be impossible to reach San Francisco,
the western terminus of his flight, before dark.

Bitterly disappointed when success
seemed almost assured, Maughan made a cursory examination of the oil cooler and went to a Rock Springs hotel for the night.

"How do you feel, Russell?" he was asked by the Associated Press correspondent. "Well, how would you feel?" he replied.

"Just how did your trouble occur?"

"Well, it was leak in the oil cooler:
I noticed it first near LaPlatte, Neb., but it was not very bad. I thought we had it fixed at Cheyenne, but it became worse as I drove on. Twenty miles out of Rock Springs it began to leak in bucketfuls. I thought best to quit."

Asked if he was tired, Lieutenant Maughan said:

"Well, I'm leaning against a bed post here. I am not very tired, however, and could easily have gone to San Francisco."

May Try Again.

Asked pointedly if he would fly
again in an attempt to span the continent, he replied: "I don't know."
He added that this was "up to the air service officials at Washington."

Lieutenant Maughan said he probably would not go to San Francisco
now that the flight was ended.

He added that he might fly to Logan, Utah, tomorrow to see his wife and children and his mother. After that, he asserted, Mitchell Field, New York, the starting point of his transcontinental flight today, probably would be his destination. He indicated he would return to Mitchell Field
by airplane.

Lieutenant Maughan characterized the flight as a "kidding."

To the Churches

Do you realize that every Sunday there are strangers in the city
who would like to go
to "their own" church?
Then, too, there are newcomers who are making their homes
here and almost the first thing they want to know is "their own" church. A notice in the Church Department of The Constitution
would bring those people to "their church."
Nowadays, the church
that wants to do the most good must make itself known. It can be done in the church advertisements of The Constitution.

THREE PROPOSED BOND ISSUES HELD NOT AUTHORIZED

City Attorney Rules Waterworks, Police Station and Sewer Issues Not Legally Passed.

A bombshell was exploded in the ranks of police station, waterworks,
and sewer bonds advocates Thursday afternoon when City Attorney James L. Mayson made public a ruling that none of these three issues had been authorized legally by general council Monday and that each would have to be introduced again in a new resolution at another meeting. The three issues had been approved by council
but had not been submitted to the al-dermanic board.

Since August 6, the date of the next regular meeting of council, would be too late to comply with the provisions of law requiring bond issues to be advertised for 30 days. Mayor Walter A. Sims stated Thursday afternoon that he would call a special meeting of council, probably on Monday afternoon, to take up the matter.

The $2,000,000 issue for parks was said to be in legal form and ready to be submitted to the voters at the primary, regardless of what happens to the waterworks, police station and sewer bonds.

May Be Held Up.

At least one alderman and at least two members of council have already been quoted as opposing the three latest bond proposals being submitted to a vote at this time so the bond advocates face the danger that the resolutions will be held up long enough on motions to reconsider to prevent a vote on September 5. Under the charter, one alderman can hold up any measure on motion to reconsider
in the aldermanic board and two councilmen, one to make the motion and one to second it, can hold up any measure in council.

Should a motion to reconsider be made at the special meeting Monday,
council could not legally vote on the motion until the next regular meeting, Monday, August 6, and that would be too late to get the bonds before the people September 5.

Mayor Sims Wednesday had signed the three resolutions passed by council and it was generally thought that they were in shape for vote September 5.

Concurrence Needed.

City Attorney Mayson, however,
ruled Saturday that they came under the head of measures "contemplating the expenditure of public funds" and for that reason required concurrence of the aldermanic board. They had been in the form of amendments to the original bond issue resolution providing for a vote on $2,000,000 worth of park bonds. This original resolution had made provision for the money to hold the election and be sent to the aldermanic board for concurrence.

Brokers Settle Shelby Argument In Fight Ring

Prominent Orleansians Battle
Furious Rounds Before City's Leading Figures.

New Orleans, July 19.—Ashton Haywood and Robert Ferrell, members of the New Orleans cotton exchange and prominent society, donned gloves and fought two fast one-minute rounds at the Young Men's Gymnastic club here late today as a result of a "kidding" over the Dempsey-Gibbons bout recently. Al Wambagans, local fight referee, who presided, called it a draw and neither man benefited
from $200 side wager posted.

Haywood, tall and lean and weighing 107 pounds, was attired in blue
tights when he entered the ring,
while Ferrell, chunky and weighing 211, caused a sensation by appearing in an outfit of red. Both men were on their feet when the bell rang at the end of the second round, but spectators said it was doubtful if they could have stayed in the ring
much longer for the slugging was fast and furious. Haywood emerged without a scratch, but Ferrell finished with a cut and bleeding lip.

There was no bitter feeling between the two amateur pugilists, but intense interest in the bout had been aroused since it had been announced from the rostrum of the cotton exchange just before the close of today's trading,
and many leading figures in the city's business world were at the ringside.

Rules Announced For City Primary On September 5

Voters Must Register Before
Office Closes on August 6.

The open season for summer politics in Atlanta officially began Thursday afternoon when the city democratic executive committee met and promulgated rules and regulations for the September 5 primary. Three aldermen, twelve councilmen and the general manager of waterworks are to be elected.

Candidates were given until noon,
August 20, to enter the lists and fees were assessed at $50 each for councilman aspirants, $75 each for aldermanic candidates and $250 for those ambitious to manage Atlanta's waterworks.

Time for Registration.

Those who would vote must register
at the office of W. S. Richardson, official city registrar, in the county courthouse before the office closes on the evening of August 6.

W. Zode Smith, incumbent, is the only one who has been mentioned
thus far for the post of general manager of waterworks.

Dr. A. H. Cochran, alderman from the second ward, has announced that he will not stand for re-election,
and Dr. L. P. Moon, present councilman from the second ward, whose term also expires, is to offer for the aldermanic seat.

J. L. McLendon, of the sixth ward, and Oscar Williamson, of the ninth ward, the other two aldermen whose terms expire, are to offer for re-election and no opposition has been announced.

Two Contests.

The two contests that have developed thus far for councilmanic seats
are in the third and eighth wards.
Councilman Fred C. Woodall is to be opposed by W. K. Spier, who has announced, and possibly also by Dr. C. A. Aven and Virgil Estes.

Councilman Edgar Watkins' announcement that he would not run
has developed a battle between Ed H.
Imman and George Brown, Jr., both seeking his place from the eighth ward.

The other councilmen who will stand for re-election and against whom no opposition has been announced, are Samuel A. Wardlaw, first ward; Claude L. Ashley, chairman of the streets and charter revision committees, fourth ward; W.
M. Elberdeigh, fifth ward; Dr. P. L.
B. Smith, sixth ward; W. C. Jenkins, seventh ward; Horace Russell, ninth ward; Frank Callaway, tenth ward;
J. H. Olson, eleventh ward, and J. L.
Cassels, twelfth ward.

Notable Speakers Will Be Heard Over WGMT Today

Governor Walker, Secretary McLendon, M. r. s.
Felton, Senators George
And Harris Scheduled.

Speakers distinguished in the affairs of the nation and state will be heard from Station WGMT, the Atlanta Constitution, this morning, when the Old Reliable Station, which the South signs on the air at 10:30 o'clock for a broadcast from the state capital.

The occasion of the broadcast will be the memorial services for the late
United States Senator Thomas E.
Watson, who took a leading part in Georgia's political life for years.

The services will be held in the house of representatives, which will be the scene of a joint session of the senate and house.

The first speaker on the program, arranged by a joint committee of the two chambers, will be Governor Clifford M. Walker. Governor Walker will be followed by Secretary of State S. Gust McLeod.

The other speakers who will pay tribute to the late United States senator will include former United States Senator Rebecca Latimer Felton, the country's first woman to take a seat in the upper house of congress. Two other speakers of national reputation
will be U. S. Senator William J.
Harris, former colleague of Senator
Watson, and Senator Walter F.
George, who succeeded the late Senator Watson.

With these speakers the broadcast
this morning will outrank in importance any capital broadcast so far presented with the exception of the initial session when the legislature at which Governor Walker delivered his inaugural address.

BRITISH APPROVE SINGAPORE BASE PROJECT THURSDAY

London, July 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—After a spirited debate in the house of commons tonight
on the merits and demerits of Singapore naval base, the government obtained a victorious vote, carrying the naval estimates under closure by 217
to 130.

The opponents of the Singapore
project bitterly complained that it was against the spirit of the Washington agreement and would lead to keeping armaments and future wars.

The first lord of the admiralty, Lieutenant Colonel L. S. Amery, in behalf of the government, strongly repudiated
these suggestions and reiterated a statement made previously by him in the house that all the delegates at Washington clearly understood that Great Britain was retaining full freedom of action regarding Singapore,
which had always been naval and military station.

BIENNIAL SESSION BILL IS EXPECTED TO PASS IN HOUSE

Legislative Leaders Confident That It Will Be Adopted When It Comes Up Monday.

GOVERNOR WALKER
FAVORS MEASURE

Bill Calls for Biennial Sessions of 60 Days Each Instead of Annual Meetings of 50 Days.

With sentiment on all sides strongly in favor of passage of the biennial legislative session bill, which was overwhelmingly adopted by the senate Wednesday, every indication Thursday night was that the measure would receive prompt and favorable action when it comes before the house of representatives Monday.

Governor Clifford Walker informed
The Constitution Thursday that he was confident that "the constructive thought of the house" would favor passage of the bill, which he classed as one of the most important and economic measures before the present session.

Senate leaders waited with interest
the action of the house, declaring that they felt assured that the lower house will give as overwhelming support to the measure as was accorded it in the senate, which approved it by a vote of 41 to 5.

The measure, which was drawn by Senator W. W. Mundy, of the thirty-eighth district, is a constitutional amendment and provides for biennial sessions of the general assembly of 60 days in length, instead of annual sessions of 50 days as at present.

Predicts Passage.

In commenting on the measure
Governor Walker declared that it was the first piece of economic legislation coming up during the present administration which would effect a savings in expenditure of state funds.

The governor predicted that the house would adopt it by an overwhelming majority.

"Only five other states have annual sessions of the legislature," he declared Governor Walker, "with the constitutional right vested in the governor to call extra sessions in any case of emergency."

"I can see no good reason for annual sessions. The bill will save the people, directly and indirectly, more than $100,000 per year. This administration is pledged to economy and this is the first and the best opportunity to practice the economy which we preached when campaigning for office."

"I am confident that the constructive thought of the legislature will favor the passage of this measure."

Pledge Support.

Assurances from the following house leaders of their support of the measure when it comes up for action,
was pledged Thursday, many others
also having signified their intention to vote for the bill:

Representatives J. W. Culpepper,
of Fayette; Langley, of Floyd; Jones,
of Floyd; Rountree, of Emanuel;
Moore, of Appling; Peterson, of Montgomery; Maddox, of Spalding;
Harris, of Appling, and others. All of these representatives declared they would "roll up their sleeves" and fight for passage of the bill in the lower house.

Representative Charles H. Stewart,
of Atkinson, declared he would offer
an amendment providing that the sessions of 30 days each be held beginning the first Wednesday of January. His amendment would further provide that the governor and all statewide officers be inaugurated
at that time instead of the last week
in June.

Senator Mundy displayed letters
from governors of 29 of the 45 states
now observing biennial sessions, all of whom expressed the opinion that such sessions were decidedly satisfactory and that special extraordinary sessions were rarely ever necessary in transacting emergency matters.

Half Fare Planned.

Passengers who are unable to find
seats in street cars and railway trains
must be transported at half fare, according to provisions of a bill introduced in the senate by Senator J. M.
Spence, of the eighth district, Thursday.

The bill further provides that supervision of this measure shall be exercised by the state public service commission. The bill was referred to the railroad committee for consideration at its session Friday afternoon.

Eloquent Appeal For Aid Is Made For Georgia Boys

Mrs. Manson Pleads for Appropriation for State Training School.

BY RALPH T. JONES.

If the appropriations committee of the house of representatives votes against providing $15,000 to build a new dormitory at the Georgia Training School for Boys, at Milledgeville,
and against another bill to provide $2,000 to replace a barn at the same institution, recently lost by fire, they are the most hard-hearted body of men ever assembled. That goes, regardless of any lack of funds in the state treasury, too.

For Mrs. Manson, superintendent of that institution, appeared before the committee Thursday afternoon to present the arguments for these appropriations, and no cause, since the day
when fair Portia appeared in that Venetian court, has been championed
so charming a pleader. She was introduced by F. J. Paxton, of Atlanta, chairman of the board for the school.

Mrs. Manson told of the work the institution under her care is doing.
She said two years ago it was called the Boys' Reformatory, and the boys were worked as convicts, wearing convict clothes, and always were under the constant threat of the loaded guns of watchful guards. She told the committee that the unlucky children were herded into barred cells every night, tightly guarded, and said that there was no trust, no liberty, no
recognition of the rights of childhood
to a square deal and an even chance for worthy citizenship.

Many Changes Made.

Today all this is changed, she said.
The "Boys' Reformatory" has become the "Training School for Boys." True,
the boys themselves are still classed as delinquents. They are the little fellows, from the different counties of Georgia who, for lack of home
training, or from improper training,
have violated some man-made law,
and whom the law has decreed must be punished. Now, since the changes related by Mrs. Manson, the law has become more intelligent, she claims,
it says the boys must be corrected,
instead of punished.

So now they go to the school at Milledgeville. There they are kept like average boys should be kept.
There are no guns, no guards, no convict clothes, no bars. The boys wear a uniform, about like that of a boy scout, they are taught to be good and valuable citizens to the state. They are well fed, and taught to do things for themselves. There is a discipline, but it is along military lines. The boys are put upon their honor. They sleep in the open, without guards to keep them from leaving, if they so desire. The only thing that keeps them in their honor,
based on their own knowledge that Mrs. Manson and her co-workers declare nothing but their good. Occasionally a newcomer does take French leave in the night. When he does the other boys, the seniors, go out alone
to find him and bring him back.

Two of these boys, both little fellows, one crippled, came before the committee with Mrs. Manson. She told how bright and eager and good they were. She admitted they were delinquents, but denied most strenuously that they, or any boys, were
"born mean."

Boys in Chains.

Then she told the committee that,
today, there are boys of ten and
twelve on the chaingangs of Georgia.
Boys, mere babies, with their young lives still fresh with the touch of a mother's kiss, working alongside hardened criminals, driven like galley
slaves, with handcuffs and leg chains clanking upon their limbs. It was for these boys she made her plea.

She asked for the $15,000 to build a new dormitory, to make room at the training school, for the children who today are barred from their opportunities and, by lack of space, are doomed to spend their young and tender years, working with criminals,
classed as criminals, and, in all probability, doomed to the life of criminals
for the future.

Eighty per cent of the boys who go through the training school make good after they leave, said Mrs. Manson. Isn't this economy, isn't this wisdom and isn't it fair, for Georgia to build good citizens, to create happy,
worthy lives, rather than to burden
herself with the expense, the disgrace
and the shame of raising young boys
to an almost certain life of crime,
she urged.

"Can't you wait one year?" asked
one member of the committee of Mrs.
Manson.

"It will be too late then for the young boys on the chaingangs today,"
she answered.

$1,000 GIFT MADE TO BIG MEMORIAL

"Founders' Roll" Subscription Announced
Thursday by the Atlanta
Ladies' Memorial Association.

A "Founders' Roll" subscription of $1,000 to the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial by the Atlanta
Ladies' Memorial association, of which Mrs. William A. Wright is president, was announced Thursday by the executive committee of the Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial association.

The association voted unanimously
at a meeting Wednesday afternoon
to subscribe this amount in memory of a Confederate soldier or a Confederate military organization, yet to be selected. When the full membership of the association is back home after the summer season the question will be decided.

Notwithstanding the absence from the city of quite a number of its members, the Atlanta Ladies' Memorial association had a well-attended meeting Wednesday afternoon. The motion to make a "Founders' Roll" subscription of $1,000 was made by Mrs. William F. Williams, first vice president, and was carried unanimously.

ENGLISH WRITER ATTACKS FRANCE'S POLICY IN RUHR

Gardiner Declares Nation
Aims To Extract Reparations Too Vast and Expansive To Consider.

SAYS FRANCE SEEKS TO DESTROY GERMANY

Issue Between Britain and France Is Much Deeper Than Question of Passive Resistance. Says Writer.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

London, July 18.—The heart of the controversy between Britain and France is a question less often mentioned in the public addresses of statesmen than in private conversations. It is a question so pregnant with grave possibilities that responsible statesmen in office avoid bringing it up, and hesitate to put into words. Outside of the world of statesmen, it is occasionally mentioned by writers and others in unofficial positions.

Probably the best way to state the question is to put it into the words of the leading English literary writer,
A. G. Gardiner, in The Nation, which is now edited by John Maynard Keynes. Mr. Gardiner's statement reads, in part, as follows:

"Together with the United States
we had the power at Versailles of making the peace the instrument and means of regenerating Europe and turning the face of the world toward the light. We threw away that priceless moment, placed Europe in the saddle and for four years have been vainly trying to check her imperious Napoleonism."

"The issue between the two countries is much deeper than any question of passive resistance. It is whether Germany is to be wiped out, politically dismembered, economically destroyed."

Pursued Two Policies.

"France throughout has pursued
two purposes which are mutually destructive. Her nominal aim has been the extraction of reparations too vast
and expensive to be stated in figures.
This impossible task was imposed upon Germany as a means of promoting the major purpose of reducing her political and economic impotence.
The latter motive has now emerged
as the dominant and undisguised
theme."

"This motive runs through the history of the post-war years like a refrain. Whenever there has seemed a prospect that at last a way had been found out of the jungle, Poincare appeared with his 'no thoroughfare' and meanwhile he established as a corollary
his policy of a military dictatorship over Europe on a scale
unprecedented since the days of Napoleon—planting black troops to terrorize the most civilized cities of central Europe and building up a vast system of strategic block houses
from the Baltic to the Black sea
encouraging Poland in the wildest dreams of imperialism, arming the

ANOTHER JUDGESHIP FOR FULTON FAVORED

A favorable report on Senator Ernest Smith's bill creating an additional judgeship for Fulton county was voted yesterday by senate general judiciary committee No. 2.

The bill is scheduled to go on its passage in the senate at Friday's session.

City Officials Make Inspection Of Water Plant

Impetus was given to the campaign for $1,000,000 city bonds for waterworks Thursday after a large party of city officials and engineers, had made a tour of inspection of the present plants and sites for the proposed improvements Wednesday.

The immense water main now being laid with money from the last bond issue and the site of the proposed impounding dam and power station on the Chattahoochee river, were the points of chief interest on the tour.

The power development is to cost $1,000,000, to give the city ample water supply and to save $100,000 in the annual cost of power to pump water from the river to the city reservoirs.

Among those who made the trip were General Manager of Waterworks W. Zode Smith, Paul Norcross, consulting engineer; J. R. Bachman, chairman of the waterworks committee of city council; Councilman W. C. Jenkins, J. C. Vaughan and Luther Baker, members of the committee; T. C. Erwin, chairman of the bond commission; Chief of Construction W. A. Hamedell; Henry F. Weidman, M. T. Singleton and S. E. Arnold, engineers in Mr. Norcross' office; Miss Corrie Hoffman, secretary to Mr. Smith; Miss Lola Manning, secretary to Mr. Norcross, and Mrs. Bachman.

The ordinance aims to save undue wear and tear on the streets by regulating the weight, speed, length, width and tire sizes of commercial vehicles.

VISITOR TO ATLANTA ROBBED OF HIS AUTO

With police hot on his trail Thursday, arrest was expected momentarily of one of the boldest automobile thieves whose denigrations have been reported in Atlanta recently. His loot was a brand-new roadster, stolen from in front of the Ponceana apartment, 108 Ponce de Leon avenue, between 1 and 1-15 o'clock Thursday morning. A reward of $25 has been offered for information leading to its recovery.

The car is the property of Jack Shelton, sales manager and vice president of the Aircraft Pen company, of Birmingham. He was a visitor at the Elks' convention last week and stopped over in Atlanta to be with his nephew, T. A. Robertson, telegraph editor of The Constitution, who is ill at his apartment in the Ponceana.

After midnight it was necessary for Mr. Shelton to procure a bottle of medicine, and during the few minutes he required to take the medicine from the automobile to the apartment and return to the street, the thief had made away with the car in spite of the stream of traffic that continues all night on Ponce de Leon.

CAMDEN COUNTY SEAT CHANGE IS FAVORED

The committee on counties and county matters of the house Thursday voted favorably on a bill by Representative Atkinson, of Camden, to change the county seat of that county from St. Marys to Woodbine. Supporters of the bill advanced arguments before the committee that Woodbine is in the geographic center of the county, that all travel from one side of the Satilla river, which divides the county, passes through Woodbine and that 75 per cent of the voters favor the change.

Plans to Remodel Terminal Station Now Being Drawn

Plans to remodel and completely modernize the Atlanta terminal station at a cost of approximately $1,000,000 are now being drawn by an expert in Washington and will be ready within the next 30 days, it was disclosed by officials of the company before the Georgia public service commission, Thursday morning.

H. C. Couch, chief clerk of Vice President B. B. Pegg, of the terminal company, made the statement regarding the plans of the company before the commission, which had issued a rule nisi against the company to require it to show cause why the station should not be repaired.

While the plans are being drawn in Washington, the company is making temporary repairs in the train shed of the station, Mr. Couch stated. The commission authorized this work to continue with the understanding that within 30 days the other plans would be submitted.

C. B. Murrell, confederate veteran and oldest resident of Eastman, in Dodge county, came to Atlanta to take a look at the legislature in session. When he gets ready to go home, he will have something new to tell his neighbors and friends about the manner in which Georgia honors the men who wore the gray in the dark days of the 'sixties.

For J. Herman Millner, representative from Dodge county, seeing the old man in the gallery of the house Thursday, introduced a resolution, which was passed without dissent, extending the privilege of the floor to Mr. Murrell as long as he stays in Atlanta.

ALLEGED MURDERER ARRESTED IN TAMPA

Perry, Ga., July 19.—(Special).—Deputy Sheriff W. E. Murray left Tuesday night for Tampa, Fla., in response to a message several days ago that officers there had George Hill, who was wanted in Houston county for murder.

At the trial term, 1921, of Houston superior court an indictment was returned by the grand jury against Hill. The alleged killing took place on March 20, 1921, near Grovania, when George Hill, with a shotgun, is said to have shot and killed George Miller.

He escaped and had not been heard from until the sheriff received the notification from the officer at Tampa, Fla., that he had the fugitive in custody.

Mr. Keeler, who resides at 3706 Thirty-Second street, Mt. Rainier, Md., gives entire credit for his extraordinary rehabilitation to Tanlac.

"My stomach was in such terrible condition I could hardly digest a thing," says Mr. Keeler. "It would swell to nearly twice its normal size and I would have frightful pains through my stomach and back. I felt so weak, dizzy and miserable work was out of the question. In fact, my friends gave me up on three or four different occasions."

"Five months ago I began taking Tanlac and improved from the very first bottle. I now eat anything on the table, have gained forty pounds, and am back at work every day. Actually, I feel like a boy again. It would be ungrateful of me not to praise Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Proposed New Territory for Atlanta

The territory to be annexed to the city of Atlanta under the provisions of the Edgar Watkins charter amendment proposal is indicated by the black lines on the map, which was prepared by W. E. Hansell, Jr., Atlanta chief of construction. The wide black lines outline the entire territory, including East Point, College Park and Hapeville. The city limits of the three towns are indicated in narrower black lines. The territory between the municipalities is to be annexed also in case all three municipalities vote for annexation. The present city limits extend to the topmost black line. The reason for council's decision not to take in any of the territory unless all is taken in, is apparent from the shape of the boundaries. If either East Point or College Park voted against annexation, the rest of the territory would be entirely separated from the present borders of Atlanta. On the map the maltese cross indicates the location of Fort McPherson and the star the center of the city as it is now.

New Macon Auditorium
Will Be Constructed
On Present Property

Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special).—The Macon auditorium commission which is in charge of the proposed new $600,000 city auditorium for Macon, announced today that the present site of the temporary auditorium at First and Cherry streets, will be used for the new structure. This action was taken on recommendation of Egerton Swartwout, of New York, chief architect.

Mr. Swartwout also announced the selection of the firm of Dennis and Dennis, local architects, to be associated with him in the work, and also named the Gunvald Aus Company, of New York, structural engineers, to assist him in the construction of the building.

A poll being conducted by the Macon chamber of commerce shows a decided preference for the present site.

The money for the building of the auditorium is being raised by a special tax levy covering a period of years. More than half of the money is already in the hands of the commission.

Graduates of the Atlanta Business College are Employed by Atlanta's Best Business Firms

B. DIXON HALL
President

MORE than fifty recent graduates of the "Atlanta" have recently been employed by Atlanta's best business firms. "Atlanta" graduates are preferred because they are thoroughly trained to do the work of the modern business office.

While graduates are going into good positions in the business world new students are entering the college daily for similar training. Our students and graduates recommend the "Atlanta" to their friends because they know we prepare our students for advancement to the highest salaried positions in the business office. We not only thoroughly train our students, but we secure for them good positions free of charge.

Here is a quotation from a letter recently received from one of our graduates who is succeeding in the business world:

"I will never forget the training I received at the 'A. B. C.' It has ever been an inspiration to me. It inspired me to study and I have been studying ever since. You have a wonderful training institution and you are doing a world of good for the young men and women of the South."—S. C. Davis.

This young man journeyed all the way from Charleston, S. C., to Atlanta, and after investigating the business colleges here, he chose the "A. B. C." in which to receive the training that has enabled him to achieve success in business. The above quotation from Mr. Davis' letter speaks for itself and it is similar to many letters we have received from our graduates.

The Atlanta Business College is located on the corner of Luckie and Fairlie streets, only two short blocks from Peachtree street, and in the heart of Atlanta's rapidly growing business center. It is the only North Side business college worthy of serious consideration. The class rooms and study hall are large, clean, well ventilated and lighted, and cooled by electric fans in summer and steam-heated in winter. The equipment is modern and complete, consisting of late models of standard typewriters—a good typewriter for every student—can you beat it?—adding, calculating and bookkeeping machines and dictaphones—we have something besides a few old Noah's Ark typewriters and a pencil sharpener. The college teaches Gregg shorthand, 20th Century Bookkeeping and Accounting revised down to date, and many other related business subjects.

Here are our rates: Shorthand or Bookkeeping, 3 months' term, $40; Shorthand and Bookkeeping, 4 months' term, $60. Life Scholarships: Stenographic or Bookkeeping, $60; Secretarial Course, $75; Complete Combined Course, $100. Our rates are the lowest of any high-grade business college in Atlanta. When you can get the best for less, why pay more? New classes start next week. Call phone or write now.

LOCAL KLAN QUITS
NATIONAL ORDER

Nathan Bedford Forrest Klan, No. 1, "the mother clan of the world," at a meeting held in its klavern last night voted to sever all connection for the present with the national organization, and at "no time in the future recognize, contribute to, or in any manner affiliate with the national organization, until such time as the national organization has been purged and different officials placed in control thereof, who have the interests of the organization only in mind and at heart."

The resolution stated that the Atlanta Klan will not return to the national fold until these conditions are met, but "in the meantime to continue our work as klansmen, separate and apart from the national organization."

The reasons for taking this action are set forth in the resolution as follows:

"Therefore, be it resolved, That we, in our klavern assembled to hereby honestly, fearlessly, as men, which God hath given, enter our most stringent protest against the present regime in power and control of the national organization of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and their benches; and do by this resolution, notify and advise the klansmen of the union, that, in our judgment, from an unbiased viewpoint, and as original slaves, familiar with the workings of the order, that they are being hoodwinked by a set of officials who, for the purpose of permitting and sanctioning, without full knowledge, the pilfering of their treasury for illegal purposes, for personal, political purposes and for the perpetrating of themselves in office, and exploiting the funds and principles of the organization."

The resolution pays high praise to Emperor William J. Simmons, founder of the Klan, and commends him to the American public and "klansmen everywhere."

Passage of the resolution follows the recent action of the national organization in suspending Nathan Bedford Forrest Klan as the result of the non-payment of dues claimed by the heads of the order. The local organization claimed that the dues were not due, on the ground that the national organization already had in its possession funds belonging to the Atlanta body.

DUNWOODY CLUB
PLANS TO SECURE
SCHOOL FUNDS

Dunwoody, Ga., July 19.—(Special).—At the regular meeting of the Dunwoody Improvement club plans made by a committee to secure funds for erecting a handsome high school building in this locality were discussed. A. L. Norris, J. A. E. Cox and W. R. Nash were appointed to acquaint the DeKalb county board of education with the movement, and urge upon this board the importance of electing a principal, who is thoroughly competent to fit the boys and girls for work in all standard colleges.

The club is also expecting to encourage the athletic tendencies of the boys.

A. L. Norris announced a contest in poultry raising and gardening, and offers handsome prizes to the winning contestants.

Under the auspices of the Dunwoody Improvement club, the merchants of the community will soon conduct a sale during a week to be known as "Trade in Dunwoody Week."

Conferees Agree on Changes In U. S. Cotton Standards

Washington, July 19.—A unanimous agreement for slight changes in four grades of United States official cotton standards, now accepted as universal standards, and retention of American names for the grades was reached today by the International Cotton conference at the department of agriculture here. The changes will be promulgated immediately but will not go into effect until August 1, 1924.

The agreement brings harmony in international cotton trading and concludes an effort begun more than 15 years ago by American producers and exporters for the adoption of universal standards sufficiently to the world.

The changes in the universal standards agreed upon by the conference are to be made as follows: In the good middling box a sample containing slightly less creamy color will be substituted for sample No. 12. In the strict middling box a similar change will be made in sample No. 12. In the middling box samples of less creamy color will be substituted for samples Nos. 1 and 4. These changes retain in each of these grades samples with creamy color that in the opinion of the American cotton trade is desirable in order that the boxes fairly represent the American cotton crop. A very slight change was also made in the strict low middling box.

The Liverpool cotton association had requested a change in the United States official standards, had been in session since Tuesday with six delegates from Liverpool and Manchester, two dozen from the American trade and officials of the department of agriculture present. A committee of seven members of the American trade, representing regions most affected worked out the details of the changes with the English representatives. The Liverpool association desired elimination of creamy colored cotton from the middling grades but agreed to a compromise.

FARMER LURES WEEVIL TO DEATH
IN NOVEL MANNER

Forrest City, Ark., July 19.—Working on the theory that the cotton boll weevil is "a little" kin to the moth, Phil Hickey, manager of a local cotton oil mill, is "wrapping" the pests in the company's fields each night. At intervals in the cotton field Mr. Hickey places each night a burning torch close by a pan of kerosene. Unable to resist the lure of the flame, Mr. Hickey asserts, the weevil flies to the light, is blinded and falls into the lethal fluid.

The experimenter declares he finds this method inexpensive and hopes that time will prove its efficacy in ridding the field of the insect plague. In the field each morning he finds a numerous "catch," although employing only one torch and trap in each three to five-acre tract.

JOHN BACHMAN, JR., LOW MEDALIST AT MACON TOURNEY

Druid Hills Team Wins Club Trophy; Macon Club Next and East Lake Third

Nine Atlanta Men Succeed in Getting in First Flight—Bachman Turns in Score of 78, Which Is Stroke Lower Than Last Year.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

Sports Editor The Constitution. Macon, Ga., July 19.—(Special.)—John S. Bachman, Jr., a young man from Rome, showed the way to one of the best fields ever drawn together for the purpose of deciding the amateur golf championship of this sovereign commonwealth at the Idle Hour course here this afternoon when his 78 earned him low medal honors.

Deprived of this laurel, which in recent years had found a more or less permanent home in Atlanta, the Capital City delegation confined its efforts to the team trophy and to getting a formidable array into the championship division. Atlanta succeeded in both ventures, as the Druid Hills team copped the trophy, while nine of the sixteen entries whose scores were low enough to worm into the charmed circle are Atlantans.

Charlie Black, Jr., Chick Ridley, Veazy Rainwater and Tess Bradshaw comprised the Druid Hills team that annexed one of the big features of the qualifying round, their total of 323 strokes beating the local club's count by four strokes. East Lake, represented by Richard Hickey, Frank Armstrong, Jimmy West and Gene Cook, finished third. Ansley Park showed a total of 346, five strokes worse than the University of Georgia team.

Rainwater Stages Comeback. Druid Hills' victory was in doubt until Rainwater, a veteran battler with his back to the wall, staged a remarkable rally on the second side, after being counted out of the run-in at the turn and completed the distance in 82 strokes, a figure that not only put his team over the top, but sent Veazy into the championship division with nothing to spare, for but one holder on an 83 teed found his way into the battle for the crown.

The Atlantans who pulled the grade were: T. F. Williams, Richard Hickey, Chick Ridley, Tess Bradshaw, Charles Black, Jr., Epps Brown, Jr., Hugh Nunnally, Gene Cook and Veazy Rainwater. Macon succeeded in putting five into the division. West, Watts Gunn, Edna Taylor, Jr., Horace Wright, Dr. J. C. McAfee and Maitland Solomon, who won out in the draw over Frank McNeill, of Marietta; J. W. Grant, Jr., and Norbert Dempsey, of Macon.

That Atlanta and Macon rather hogged the championship fight is seen in the fact that Bachman, the medalist, and Joel Turnbull, a fine golfer from Montrie, were the only entries be listed with those who tried and failed, Black got down to business on the second side and his 38 was not bettered by any contestant. If he can but manage to flirt with par on the first nine Black should enter the second round. Just for comparison here are the cards turned in by Bachman and Black, showing conclusively that the former's forte is the latter's weakness:

Bachman:
Out ..... 554 345 543—38
In ..... 525 555 445—40—78
Black:
Out ..... 553 548 554—45
In ..... 435 454 438—38—81

The second match will find Veazy Rainwater and Dr. J. C. McAfee in action. This should be a regular bout. They qualified together this afternoon and once Veazy reaches his stride the sailing looks to be about even. Dr. McAfee had a grand chance to the medal, but killed his opportunity by poor work on the last hole, taking a six where the par is four. He looked unbeatable at other places and was not given much assistance by fortunate breaks. To the contrary Veazy rimmed the cup many times with long putts and his second shot generally found him on the putting green.

Rainwater Is Favored. Now that Rainwater has successfully battled against heart-rendering twists of fate, the home green experts nominate him as a possible winner of the championship, all of which would indicate Dr. McAfee is in for considerable trouble on the morrow, and we are inclined to the belief that the Atlantans will come safely through. We had much rather see Veazy pitted against one of the younger and less experienced players. Dr. McAfee's game seems to be as solid as the rock of Gibraltar, and he is prepared for anything. The Macon entry will be defeated only by better golf than he is capable of putting out, for that he will not "blow" is the one thing he is sure of.

Dr. McAfee is a model for consistency. His game is not quite as good as Rainwater's, but he is extremely dangerous on a putter. Many people think he missed today could have gone down and no member of the nice little gallery that followed would have been surprised if he had. His misses, being usually overplayed, for Dr. McAfee is a strong believer in giving his approach putts a chance.

Here are the cards:
Rainwater:
Out ..... 553 457 574—45
In ..... 436 444 533—37—82
McAfee:
Out ..... 563 346 553—40
In ..... 446 454 438—40—80

Brown Meets Cook. When J. Epps Brown, Jr., and Gene Cook, Atlanta youngsters, step off for their last round, many people of interest will be attached to the encounter. Brown has reached the top of his game and made a fine impression on the critics today. He is playing for an instant after a magnificent start on the first nine, but called in plenty of time to turn with a 40. This made the way rather easy for him, but he let down again on the second side and was forced to buckle down to business to get in. With just one more stroke to waste at reaching the 15th tee, Epps was one over par for these holes and got in nicely.

Watching him in action gave this writer the impression that Brown's game can be just as good as he wants it to be. In other words, he has the shots in his bag when emergency is met. He must travel at full speed Friday, for Cook is a golfer built along Brown's lines. When the battle is warm, Cook steps on the artillery.

A poor 43 had put him in trouble as he teed off for the last nine today. The situation was distinctly squally and Gene realized he must produce the needed stuff or take the count. He battled on even terms with par for the first five holes on this side, losing a stroke here and picking up one there. He slipped badly on number fifteen dropping two strokes with a poor six and just still another made up for some of this bad shooting by getting the last three holes in one under par, real golf, as these holes are possibly the most difficult on this side.

That the struggle between Bradshaw and Nunnally should be very interesting, provided they maintain pace set today, is shown by the cards.

Bradshaw:
Out ..... 544 346 474—41
In ..... 457 456 334—39—80
Nunnally:
Out ..... 554 390 553—42
In ..... 545 340 435—39—81

T. T. Williams, Ansley Park star, was in wonderful form today, making a few mistakes on the long, long grand, but will probably have to step even faster in his first round match, as he catches Joel Turnbull, south Georgia's most formidable contender, for the title. This seems to be Turnbull's year, results of various tournaments in his section indicate.

In a recent tournament Turnbull defeated Scotty Beverly, the Thomasville crack, who made such a profound impression on Atlanta golf writers in this sum; tournament last year. That his triumph over Beverly was no fluke was borne out today when Turnbull qualified easily, despite a sorry nine on the seventh, which has come to be regarded as one of the real hoodoo holes of this course.

He played six of the nine holes on the first side in par figures, which explains why he was able to qualify and yet entertain a nine on his card. He was extremely consistent on the second side and had a 38 for his effort. Williams 39 for the first nine made him a favorite for the medal among the early finishers, but he ran into terrible luck soon after setting out on the last nine and did not show his good shooting as the round drew to a close.

His work on the last six holes was not equalled by any other contestant. He went over this distance in exactly par figures, but was five over par on the first three. It was during this let-up that Williams tossed away his opportunity for the low score.

Here are the cards:
Williams:
Out ..... 552 446 544—39
In ..... 447 544 434—41—80
Turnbull:
Out ..... 433 447 543—43
In ..... 336 444 535—38—81

Hickey Meets Wright. Richard Hickey and Horace Wright, local stars, should engage in a fine duel and we would not be surprised if they were. Wright knows this course thoroughly and is a scrapper of the bulldog type. Hickey has every shot in the book and he knows he will succeed in lining up his wares remains to be seen. Richard had a 40 on each side, but was forced to get by the last two holes in par figures to turn the trick. He was correct on his card on the second side and a six kept it company, this ball shooting coming on successive holes.

The cards:
Hickey:
Out ..... 454 445 554—40
In ..... 337 645 534—40—80
Wright:
Out ..... 543 548 553—43
In ..... 536 545 434—39—82

Edna Taylor, Jr., regarded as Macon's best bet, will battle Maitland Solomon, another Bibb county entry, and Taylor should win. The latter was the better side, a pretty hard issue, as he threw away an opening for a lower score on this half. He turned with a 38, but began waning on the last nine and finished with a side with a 43 and 81 for the round.

Watts Gunn, of Macon, who broke the Baltimore Forest course record in a recent tournament, will meet Chick Ridley and a merry tussle it ought to be. Chick has toned down his stockings and this has unquestionably had a good effect on his game. The yellow and black crease Chick introduced to Macon golf followers Wednesday gave way today to stockings of pale blue. And where he was barely able to break 90 yesterday, Chick rode on top of the world today and was right with the rest of the low scorers.

Chick's game is always good when his iron shots are working well. If he was the iron master today and if he should retain this edge for the morrow, a hard fight is waiting for young Mr. Gunn.

Here is Chick's card:
Out ..... 553 447 543—40
In ..... 435 464 545—40—80

Cook:
Out ..... 654 546 643—43
In ..... 434 540 535—39—82

Bradshaw vs. Nunnally. Tess Bradshaw and Hugh Nunnally will be opponents in a battle that should go to Bradshaw. Both had some trouble on the first side, a terrible seven on the par 4 eight hole putting. Tess had a chance to crawl off the low medal, but both succeeded in clipping off strokes on the last nine. Another seven on the thirteenth hurt Bradshaw's promotion at the end of the Florida season, but received orders to report at once, he telegraphed.

Four Warrants Issued in Dickey Dynamiting Case
No arrests had been made late last night in connection with the dynamiting last week of James T. Dickey's residence in Brookhaven although four warrants were issued during Thursday by Judge R. H. Ledford, notary public and ex-officio justice of the Peace, in Decatur.
The four men sought by officers are L. M. Flagg, Mac Hutchinson, Fred Crider and S. M. Bass.
A notice, warning the Dickey's to move was found rudely penciled on a sheet of drawing paper, tacked to a post near an out-house which was wrecked by a charge of dynamite.

BILL WOULD BAR AUTO DRIVERS UNDER 16 YEARS
Representative Craig Arnold, of Lumpkin county, Thursday introduced in the house a bill which would make it unlawful for anyone under 16 years of age to drive an automobile in the state of Georgia, unless he has had twelve months' experience, and is accompanied by the owner of the machine. The bill would also make it a felony for any person to drive a car, without the owner's consent, or when in an intoxicated condition.
Another new bill Thursday, introduced by Representative DeLoach, of Clayton, would require all automobiles to come to a complete stop at all railroad crossings.
Under a bill introduced by Representative Logan, of Baker, the Bible would be read each day in all educational institutions maintained by state funds.
The house, just before adjournment, passed an appropriation bill to correct a technical error in the bill of 1921 appropriating $25,000 a year to the state school for mental defectives in Richmond county. It was introduced by Representative Cummings, of that county, and explained by him as merely making available an appropriation of $25,000 for 1923, previously voted, but uncollectible because of technical errors in the original bill.

A close watch was maintained at all hospitals where it was thought the negro might go to have his wounds dressed.

Two lovely social events of Thursday was the bridge luncheon and tea given by Mrs. Hutton B. Rogers and Mrs. Frank J. Massenburg at the home of Mrs. Rogers on Fourteenth street in compliment to Mrs. George Y. Massenburg, of Macon.

The home was decorated with gladioli in pastel shades and shasta daisies arranged in silver baskets and placed on the mantels and consoles.

The table in the dining room was overlaid with a lace cover and was graced with a large green iridescent glass bowl filled with shasta daisies. Placed at intervals encircling this were green candlesticks holding unshaded yellow tapers and alternating with compots filled with yellow and green mints.

The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Robert Stripling, Jr., Rufus T. Dorsey, Fred Sutton and Royston Cabanis.

Mrs. Rogers was gowned in an orchid crepe trimmed with silver.

Mrs. Frank Massenburg wore green chiffon veiling gold cloth.

Mrs. George Massenburg wore a gown of apricot colored chiffon.

Mrs. Shorten Is Honored.

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith was hostess Thursday at a matinee party at the Forsyth theater in compliment to Mrs. William Shorten, of Marietta, Ark., who is the guest of Mrs. Edwin Vancey.

Invited to meet Mrs. Shorten were Mrs. Edwin Vancey, Mrs. Robert Quinn, Mrs. John Boykin, Mrs. George Yundt, Mrs. John Perdue, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. Lucile Wasson, Mrs. Cliff Hatcher, Mrs. George Brower and Mrs. Hatcher, of Grantville, Ga.

Musicians' Club To Give Dance.

Attractive place cards and favors of dainty bracelets of unique design marked each place. The fees were frozen flags, and the mints further carried out the patriotic color scheme.

Its fame has spread from shore to shore until it is now looked upon by women everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills. It has been proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, which is a marvelous record for any remedy to hold.—(adv.)

Bill for Shorter Working Hours For Women Is Well Received

BY MARTHA GOODE ANDERSON

Betterment of working conditions for women is the aim of house bill No. 114, introduced by Representative Russell, of Barron, which was favorably recommended Thursday by the committee on labor and labor statistics of the house by a vote of 6 to 5. This bill is sponsored by the League of Women Voters, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, King's Daughters and the Federated Council of the Churches of Christ in America. Sullen features of the bill call for a 10-hour working day and a 55-hour week, rest rooms and other conveniences necessary to proper sanitation.

Mrs. Harry Chamberlin, president of the Georgia State League of Women Voters, was the principal speaker at the committee hearing Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Chamberlin expressed herself as delighted with the favorable result of the hearing, but pledged herself to work "as long as I live for an 8-hour working day for women in industry in Georgia."

Eight-Hour Day Goal.
"The idea that eight hours is a working day goes as far back in our history as 800, when Alfred was king of England. Back in fact, to the time when there seems to have been serious doubt as to whether women had souls."

"Alfred the Great worked eight hours, for he divided his day in three parts—one for his people, one for sleep, and one for himself. And in the hundreds of years that intervened the eight-hour day has been the goal set."

"Now, as to the women: Why establish it by law for women and not for the men? "Because, the supreme court has declared it unconstitutional for the men, but allows laws for women's wages and hours of work. They reason that as long as the women have to take care of their homes and children, it is for the good of the race that their hours of work outside of the home be limited. "Atlanta needs the law more than the smaller places, and, in fact, outside of the larger towns, it will not apply, for it only applies to those employing more than four women. We

Appeal Made For Clothing.

An appeal is made to Atlantans to contribute clothes for men and boys who are sick at the Home for Incurables. Speer, co-chairmen of the clothing committee, who will call for these articles.

Surrounding the central decoration were silver candelabra holding pink unshaded tapers. The guests' places were marked by small pink crepe baskets filled with mints and bearing their names.

CHAPTER XXIX.
Mimi's Confession.

It was very late when they arrived at Cragmoor. In the moonlight the house looked very impressive, with its wide flower-bordered terraces and gleaming lights. The mountains rose behind it and in front a valley opened wide, stretching for miles to the mountains again.

Gloria was glad to go to her room. She had slept but little that morning and the strain of Mimi's society was almost too much for her. She could have wept when Mrs. Slater said: "My dear, you won't mind my putting you and Mimi together, will you? I'm sorry to do it, but the house is so full—several members of the diplomatic corps arrived quite unexpectedly yesterday, intending to stop only a day on their way to Bar Harbor, but you know how the colonel—he insists on being hospitable no matter how much it inconveniences everyone else."

"Oh, of course I don't mind," Gloria replied, but she longed to ask if there wasn't a henhouse or a dog kennel that she could have alone. Mimi unpacked with a flourish, dashed into a hot bath and out again and settled down to gossip when Gloria got into bed.

"Lorraine Slater's stunning, isn't she?" she commented. "Well, that's what comes of marrying for money. She certainly was wise, wasn't she? If she'd married a poor man—they said she was in love with one, you know—she'd be old and dragged out looking by now! And the colonel's probably as good a husband as the poor man would have been, when it comes to that."

"Mimi, I think you're perfectly heartless," exclaimed Gloria. "All day long you've been so perverse you've seemed to me to make trouble for everyone; what on earth's the matter?"

"Money, if you must know!" was the unexpected reply. "It just simply gets me to see you and Virginia and

"Well, what if he did give me this negligee?" Mimi demanded.

you, but I'm so tired of it! I have to do all kinds of things—like not registering at a hotel, and then staying with you, and letting you pay for me. And I'm a regular gold digger.

And I've got to get a rich husband—that's all settled. I have learned that lesson. I made one hideous mistake, but that's well, that's blotted out. For heaven's sake don't be too hard on me, Gloria—you've always had money; you don't know what it is to be poor."

"But I should think—well, wouldn't you rather give up the struggle and just get along on what you have and be happy?" asked Gloria.

"Oh, wouldn't I? But—well, you know my mother. Do you think she'd be willing to do that? Why, she'd rather die. Just once I tried to break away—I took things into my own hands, and tried to manage my own life. But she stepped in, and before I knew it I was back in the old rut."

Gloria fingered the monogram on the sheet that was drawn across her knees. Was everyone in a rut—did everybody want to live their lives differently and find themselves hemmed in on every side?

"I suppose you despise me," Mimi went on, "but maybe you'll understand me better now, and not mind when I'm perfectly nasty. I don't mean to be horrid to you, Gloria—I like you better than anyone else."

But it's such a hard game that I have to play, and when I think I'm losing I'll do anything to make things come out the way I want them to."

"Of course I don't despise you," exclaimed Gloria, jumping out of bed and running across the room to throw her arms around her. "And if I can ever do anything to help you, you can count on me!"

She did not see the curious expression that came into Mimi's eyes as an expression of triumph and craftiness. She only knew that she was sorry from the bottom of her heart for this other girl whose life was so difficult, and that she wanted to help.

Surprise Picture For Boys and Girls At Theaters

Mrs. Porter Langston announces that a surprise picture will be shown at the boys and girls' matinee at the Howard theater on Friday morning.

This picture will star a film favorite among young people, Bessie Love, and she will be seen in the sawdust ring, a non-theatrical picture. This picture has been the subject of much pleasant anticipation and was promised by Mrs. Porter Langston as an unusually pleasing film drama in which the heroine and the hero are both wholesome, natural little people who seek adventure through the necessity to help the mother of the heroine and in doing bring great happiness to several people, themselves included.

Mrs. Langston's other selections for the matinee include "The Fate of a Nation," a non-theatrical instructional reel and Harold Lloyd in the Pathe picture, "Now or Never," which will furnish the comedy feature.

Children attending the Alpha matinee on Saturday morning will be treated to a brief story told by a member of the library association by way of prologue, "The Fate of a Nation," in which Art Accord is starred. Charlie Chaplin will be seen in a two reel comedy called "A Day's Pleasure." Reginald Denney, another comedian, will be seen in one of the "Leather Pusher" series, called "Young King Cole," a Consolidated picture which will round out an entertaining bill.

Mrs. G. H. Guy, chairman of chaperons, will be assisted at the Howard by Mrs. C. A. Wallace and Mrs. S. A. Rudder and Mrs. Ellis Barrett, co-chairman of chaperons will be assisted at the Alpha by Mrs. L. G. Holstenbach.

FRIGHTENED GIRL BARELY ESCAPES INJURY BY AUTO

Quick application of brakes on his automobile by El. V. Deaton, real estate agent in the Georgia Savings Bank building, Thursday prevented serious injuries to Miss Jimmie Lee Samples, 147 Currier street, who became frightened and fell in the path of his machine at Broad and Alabama streets Thursday morning.

According to the report of the police, Miss Samples was crossing the street, unaware of the approach of Mr. Deaton's car. As he sounded his horn, she became frightened, losing her balance and falling to the pavement.

Mr. Deaton stopped his car instantly and, picking Miss Samples up, carried her to the hospital and then home. She was reported to be suffering from a few bruises and a severe nervous shock.

Miss Samples requested the officers not to make any case against Mr. Deaton.

Committee Votes Electric Chair In Place of Rope

Senate general judiciary committee No. 1 Thursday voted favorably on a measure introduced by Senators Stovall, Patsy, Davis, Smith, Mason and Johnson, providing that the electric chair be substituted for the gallows in Georgia, and that all executions take place at the state farm in Milledgeville. The vote was unanimous, the bill taking its place on the calendar for consideration at Friday's session.

A similar measure introduced in the house was favorably reported by house general judiciary committee No. 2 last Thursday and is scheduled for hearing at Friday's session also.

Voting Law Change

At its same meeting the senate committee reported favorably on a bill by Senator Moore, of the seventh district, providing for amendment to the voting law by permitting persons whose business necessitated their leaving the state before elections to cast their ballots in a sealed envelope with the election managers.

This action was delayed during the war when soldiers and others in the government service were allowed to cast their votes while absent from their voting precincts.

The committee reported unfavorably on a bill introduced by Senators Stovall, Johns and Hamby, providing that $12,000 be deducted annually from the workmen's compensation funds to be paid the attorney general for extra work in handling affairs of the department.

It was the unanimous opinion of committee members that the attorney general's salary should be increased, but they agreed that it should come from other funds.

Optometry Commission

Senator John Camp Davis' bill creating a state optometry commission which would govern activities of practicing optometrists in Georgia, was favorably reported by the committee.

At its regular session Thursday the senate adopted a resolution calling upon the house to take immediate steps to enact some emergency revenue measure to meet appropriations due Confederate veterans as pensioners.

President George H. Carswell, who with Senators Lankford and Mason, were authors of the resolution, took the floor and asserted that a constitutional amendment had been ratified in 1918 by the voters of Georgia placing on the pension rolls names of additional Confederate veterans and widows of veterans but that sufficient funds had not been provided by the 1921 general assembly for paying these pensioners.

$3,750,000 Required

Senator Lankford declared in support of the resolution that Georgia owes its pensioners approximately $2,500,000 for 1921-22 pensions and the payment of pensions for 1923 and 1924 will require approximately $5,750,000.

The resolution which was transmitted to the house immediately after passage was in part as follows:

"Whereas, in order to meet these pensions, it becomes necessary for this legislature to raise additional revenue for that purpose to the amount of about $6,000,000, and as the constitution prohibits the same from originating in revenue or appropriation measures, the senate hereby respectfully brings these facts to the immediate attention of the house and asks earnest consideration of same at a very early date in order that some necessary revenue measure for quickly raising these essential funds may be originated and acted upon by the house of representatives before the 1923 legislative period reaches the heat of its session and serious danger from congestion arises."

EMORY MEDICAL FACULTY MAKES SEVERAL CHANGES

Several changes have been made in the medical faculty at Emory university.

Dr. A. R. Bliss was not re-elected as professor of pharmacology, this position having been filled by Dr. A. D. Bush, a graduate of the Atlanta Medical college, and recently professor of pharmacology at the University of Missouri. Dr. Bliss has not only held several important positions in medical institutions, but has made many important contributions to literature in his field.

Dr. M. F. Brown has been an assistant professor in the department of pharmacology under Dr. Bliss for several years while studying on his medical course. While Dr. Brown has given satisfaction in every respect, it is planned to secure a man who has completed his medical work to fill this position.

Two years ago Dr. John Funke was secured as acting professor of pathology and bacteriology until a suitable man might be secured to fill this chair. The university has been successful in securing Dr. G. B. Adams to take charge of this department. The authorities are grateful to Dr. Funke for his kindness in temporarily filling this place until a suitable man could be secured.

Dr. R. H. Baldwin, graduate of the Emory University Medical school, was elected last year as instructor in the department of physiology. Dr. W. W. Danie has been elected to fill this place for the coming year.

Dr. E. B. Saye, assistant professor of pathology and bacteriology, was released in March to accept a position with the Georgia State Insane asylum. His place was not filled at the time as it was thought best to wait until Dr. Adams had taken charge of the department in order that he might assist in the selection of his assistant.

W. B. Matthews has been elected as instructor in physiological chemistry for the coming year.

While it is planned to add several new members to the faculty, no other changes have been made up to the present time.

PISTOL VICTIM DYING AT GRADY HOSPITAL

Surgeons at the Grady hospital announced Thursday that Andrew ("Boss") Robertson, who lies on Whitehall terrace, had but slim chances for recovery, and pronounced his condition critical. Robertson was wounded twice Thursday night by a pistol fired, police were told, by J. T. ("Kid") Cunningham, of 11 High-tower street.

Cunningham escaped before the police arrived and has not been apprehended. Detectives were told that Robertson was advancing upon Cunningham with a knife when the latter fired twice.

Lawrence Stillwell and Courtland B. Stillwell, two white youths, Thursday were found guilty of conspiring to violate the federal motor vehicle act and sentenced to terms of imprisonment by Judge Samuel H. Shiple. Donovan H. Wright, jointly indicted with them on the conspiracy charge and charged in a separate indictment with transporting a stolen machine across a state line, was acquitted in both cases.

"Purring" Motors Come From Pouring Polarine

Automobile construction has reached such a high point of efficiency that nearly any car you buy will give you good service if you take the right care of it.

Proper lubrication is, of course, the most essential thing to motor satisfaction—and remember always that the motor is the heart of the car. If the pistons and cylinder walls are lubricated with the right quality and the right weight of oil, you will have no bother or expense with either of the two great causes of trouble—friction and lost power.

Polarine is a motor oil made from the very heart of choicest crude petroleum, refined, filtered and purified so as to produce just the right "oiliness" for every motor. Made in four weights, "Medium"—"Heavy"—"Heavy X" and "Heavy XX." By following the chart of recommendations (which is on display at all Polarine dealers), you can be absolutely assured of getting the proper weight for your motor.

WOMAN CLAIMS MASKED PARTY ABDUCTED HER

Tulsa, Okla., July 19.—Details of her abduction on a busy street corner here Monday evening, and subsequent torture in an effort to wring from her information relating to a deal involving George Petropol, an oil lease broker, were taken last night by Mrs. Pearl Hayter, according to a story published this morning by The Tulsa World.

The woman related her story and the scene of the first attack she alleges was made upon her by abductors. This was at a point, with of Tulsa, where Mrs. Hayter, in company with two men, drove the reporter in a motor car.

Before she was thrown from an automobile on the streets of Okmulgee last Monday night, Mrs. Hayter declared she was assaulted by two of her abductors and burned with acid. Her hair was torn by the kidnappers, she said.

Denial was made by Mrs. Hayter that she and Petropol had been blackmailing business men in Tulsa and Sapulpa, as alleged by Mrs. Hayter. She was reported to have summoned a reporter of The Tulsa Tribune Tuesday and stated that they were responsible for the torture of the woman, charging that she and Petropol had been practicing extortion, challenging his accusers to meet him in court.

An official inquiry into the case will be instituted, it was announced by County Attorney John M. Goldsberry. The masked men declared they were not members of the Ku Klux Klan.

RADIO DEPARTMENT TO ARTISTS HEARD FROM WGM Instrumentalists Will Be Featured On Early Program AGUMENTED AGES PROGRAM OFFERED

Afternoon Broadcast Presents Pleasing Variety Of Entertainment For Listeners.

Station WGM's afternoon broadcast Thursday was full of variety in the form of musical entertainment, presenting Miss Martha Anderson, Gaston Johnson and Jimmy Finley. The phone was kept busy by Atlanta listeners requesting numbers, which were granted as long as time permitted.

Miss Anderson's solos were the outstanding feature of the early broadcast and the sweetness and purity of her voice was refreshing in the numbers, "River Shannon Moon," "I'll For You," "I Passed By Your Window," "Absence," and "The Sunshine of Your Smile." Miss Anderson is not a newcomer to Station WGM. She achieved remarkable success at her first appearance here and will be given the opportunity to hear this talented young artist again in a short time.

Gaston Johnson created a sensation with his forceful and well-trained baritone voice, which was heard in the numbers, "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Love Song of a Discarded Veteran of Base Hospital No. 48, in Atlanta." Mr. Johnson is a member of the Troubadours of the Atlanta Lodge of Elks. Both he and Miss Anderson are pupils of Signor E. Volpi, of Atlanta.

Jimmy Finley, staff pianist of Station WGM, played the piano accompaniments for the vocal numbers and also played and sang "Maggie, Yes Ma'am," "Don't We Carry On," "Honey, You're My Everything," "Carolina Mammy," and "Just a Girl That Men Forget."

The Footwarmers always give listeners the latest number in dance music and they give it in such time that it is often used by listeners as the inspiration for dancing. Many of the Footwarmers' appearances before the microphone of Station WGM, the list of soloists starts with Bill Munn, musical director and pianist, and finished with Dewey Bass, banjoist. The members of the orchestra, besides the soloist, include Eddie O'Brien, violin; Phil Schoenfeld, saxophone; Bishop Foreman, saxophone and clarinet; Pete Sullivan, Mortimer Hazlehurst, trumpets, and Duke Welborn, drums.

The Footwarmers gained unusual recognition recently when they were engaged by the Howard theater for a week's offering. They play at the Howard all of next week.

VOLETO DIRECT CONCERT TONIGHT

Signor E. Volpi, Atlanta's noted teacher of voice and coach of opera, will have charge of the program to be broadcast between 9:30 and 10:45 o'clock tonight from Station WGM.

The Atlanta Constitution, which is the first time that the program will be broadcast, will be named during today for the broadcast.

Friday night is the regular time for Signor Volpi to present his pupils from his studio. He will play all of the piano accompaniments tonight.

He spoke in highest terms of Senator Watson, who was introduced by John M. Graham, president of the National City bank, who referred to him as Floyd county's own. At the close of his address, Harris asked a ringing vote of confidence, which was given by the audiences with practical unanimity.

Florida, the winter playground of the rich, is shown in all its phases in "Fog Bound," Dorothy Dalton's latest Paramount picture which Irvin Willat produced and which has caught on in fine shape at the Rialto theater this week.

So far as is known this is the first time that the Everglades, beaches, blue orange groves, beautiful estates and placid lakes of Florida have all been shown in one picture. Many pictures have shown one or two of these phases of Florida life, but in "Fog Bound" they are all flashed on the screen.

The spirit of the program is a Christie Comod, "Punch Cray," and as a stage attraction the Rialto presents Myrtle Cox, charming Atlanta dancer, in a Grecian interpretation of "Valse Bluette," Whitney Huber conducting.

Miss Edith Brannon Sings in Same Concert Given by Warner's Dance Organization.

Warner's Seven Aces, The Atlanta Constitution orchestra, last night presented another notable program. The Aces last evening were augmented by Miss Edith Brannon, sister of Tom Brannon, trumpeter and business manager of the dance orchestra.

The Aces were playing last night. They always make the best dance music available, but there are times when the Aces, like any other musical organization, out-Ace themselves. That is what is meant when it is written that the Aces were playing. They literally out-Aced themselves.

Miss Brannon has been heard on the radio before from Station WGM. She is a highly talented soprano, having studied at Brenau college, Gainesville, Ga., and in the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music at Cincinnati, Ohio. Especially pleasing was her solo last evening, "Lonesome, That's All." Miss Brannon also played the piano accompaniments for her numbers.

The Aces opened their program last evening from the Old Reliable Station of the South, with the introduction of another Warner organization. It was "Bambolina." The Aces did wonders with it, especially in the arrangement, which is original.

This was followed with "Blue Hoosier Blues," which the Aces introduced in their program Tuesday night. It was a splendid arrangement, and it was one of the hits of the next few months, for it is not only a good dance tune naturally, but also has a splendid orchestration that is almost perfect.

The final touches of B. H. Warner, musical director of the Aces.

Other numbers which the Aces played included a fox-trot arrangement of "Roses of Picardy," "Swinging Down the Lane," "Railroad Man," "Chansonette," and "Who's Sorry Now?"

PRETTY GEORGIA GIRL RISKS LIFE TO SAVE COSTUMES

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Gertrude Butler, pretty young woman from Waycross, Ga., proved herself a real heroine during the fire which swept Chester park, the largest inland amusement resort in the United States, at midnight last night.

Undismayed by the inferno of burning buildings and undaunted by the police cordon and the high fence which surrounded the park, she made her way to the stage of the vaudeville theater and saved practically all the costumes and property of fellow actors and actresses.

Butler, her husband, Frank Butler, and their dancing partner were seated on the porch of their boarding house in the rear of the park when Butler saw a flame in the park. The three set out for the park with Mrs. Butler in the lead. She was stopped by several guards, but managed to get into the park by jumping over a fence.

When leaving the vaudeville stage she jumped upon a horse that was being led from the park and rode out into the street.

BRITAIN DELAYS NOTE TO GERMANY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
London, July 19.—Another cabinet council has been summoned for tomorrow to consider further the draft of the British reply to Germany on reparations. This announcement was made late tonight.

Lord Curzon is experiencing more difficulty in the preparation of his note to Germany than had been expected. It is now reported that the note and the covering letter may not be dispatched to the Allies until next week, but whether the trouble has arisen from political friction within the cabinet, as alleged in some quarters, or simply from the inherent difficulty of framing a reply to Germany which would not offend France, is not evident.

ENGLISH WRITER AT TACKS RUHR POLICY

London itself infinitely more vulnerable than it has ever been before in history.

"Policy Impossible."

"In such a policy, this country can have no part, not because it has any bias for Germany, but because its own existence on such terms is impossible. It does not matter who is in office in this country; he will be compelled to resist the economic destruction of Europe and the military hegemony of any single power."

"The course before Premier Baldwin is clear and imperative. He desires no more than any of us to open a breach with France, but if, as seems to be the case, Poincaré is unwilling to resist the economic destruction of Europe and the military hegemony of any single power, then in the interests of this country and of Europe, he must take his own line. The alternative is unthinkable. It is to drift helplessly in the wake of France, not until Germany only, but the whole of European civilization, is obliterated."

This statement merely puts in forceful words what many British leaders have been claiming privately, and what even the friends of France have been uneasily and unwillingly suspecting.

Daugherty's Son Tells of Escape From Sanitarium

Chicago, July 19.—Details of his escape from a Connecticut sanitarium on June 17 were given by Major Draper M. Daugherty, son of Harry M. Daugherty, United States attorney general, found last night in the employ of a coal company here, in an interview published today in the Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Major Daugherty was quoted as saying the publicity he received in the Dorothy King murder case in New York caused him to drink heavily and his wife and uncle had him committed to the Stamford, Conn., institution.

"I thought I would be in there for only two weeks," he was quoted as saying. "I discovered it would be from six months to a year. I could not stand it."

8,000,000 MARK IS REACHED IN FORD
CAR PRODUCTION

Detroit, Mich., July 19.—Ford motor No. 8,000,000 went off the assembly line at the Ford Motor company plant here July 11, it became known today, establishing a new million production record.

The last million motors have been produced in just six days less than six months, motor No. 7,000,000 having been turned out January 17 of this year. Production at the start of the last million was approximately 4,500 motors a day and the increased schedule in effect since has been brought to more than 7,000.

The average for the period was slightly above 6,711 a day for the 149 working days, an average of more than 146,070 a month. Motor No. 7,000,000 was produced eight months after No. 6,000,000. Increased plant facilities enabled the company to elap two months off the schedule in turning out the last million motors.

German Trade Council Favors Continuance Of Passive Resistance

Essen, July 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The German trade union council for the occupied territory passed a resolution today against the efforts of the leaders of the Rhine-Ruhr republic movement and in favor of the continuance of passive resistance at all costs.

The resolution, however, contained an appeal to the Berlin government to leave unexplored no avenue offering a possible solution of the repatriation question. The French announced today that the Germans sent several fuel trains out of the Ruhr yesterday of which four went to Holland and one to Italy.

The French seized ten locomotives, a dozen tank cars and fourteen open freight cars at the Rhine steel works in Duisburg, which were occupied yesterday. The port workers at Duisburg are demanding an increase in wages of 85 per cent in order to meet the rapidly increasing cost of living.

EARL OF NORTHERK WEDS FOLLIES GIRL

Chicago, July 19.—The Earl of Northernk and Miss Jessica Brown, former Follies girl, were married tonight in the offices of Frank T. Jordan, her attorney. Judge John R. Caverly performed the ceremony.

The earl recently refused a license in New York because Miss Brown's divorce from her first husband, obtained here, was not recognized in that state, was accompanied to the marriage license bureau by Mr. Jordan.

Miss Brown was divorced here six months ago from Cyril de Witt Reinhardt, of New York, a naval engineer. She charged cruelty.

The earl gave his name as David Ludovic George Hopetoun Carnegie. Earl of Northernk, of London and Middlesex, 21 years of age, the son of his intended wife as Jessica Ruth Brown, 23 years old.

W. W. WILL CALL GEORGE ST. SKE

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Port Arthur, Texas, July 19.—There will be no invasion of Port Arthur by I. W. W.

This statement was made by General Organizer Sidney Terry at 11 o'clock tonight. He declared that a messenger had just arrived from New Orleans bearing orders from Harry G. Clark, of Chicago, and John Shuskie, of New York.

The reason given by Terry, who was in company with William Green and Robert Bell, the latter I. W. W. leader, was that they were awaiting trial on vagrancy charges, which is a general strike being ordered, which will take marine workers out of vessels in every port and the higher officials of the organization do not consider it advisable to concentrate in any one section and thus draw attention to Port Arthur as being turned back at New Orleans.

New Orleans Control Point

Terry stated that New Orleans was to be the centralization point for the Port Arthur invasion and that already a considerable number had arrived there by vessel from both the Atlantic and Pacific ports.

They were awaiting the arrival of more men when the orders were received and this morning a messenger started for Port Arthur, arriving tonight with instructions to the organizers here and advising them that the invasion had been called off.

The men had been ordered back to New York according to Terry's statement to the Associated Press here, while those from the west coast had been ordered to return to strategic points to await orders for the general strike, which may come in a short time.

The strike is to be a protest, according to the organizers, against the implementation of national prohibition and also against the action of the California courts in sentencing twenty-seven members of the organization last week.

POLICEMAN SAVES NEGRO FROM MOB IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, July 19.—While a mob looked vainly along Seventh avenue, near 37th street, for a post on which to lynch James Gullotta, a negro porter, a policeman last night battled his way to the prisoner's rescue and locked him in a garage for safe keeping until a patrol wagon came.

The negro was dragged from an attempt to attack an 11-year-old white girl, whom he had dragged into a doorway. Screaming women and shouting men were coming toward him, and he was being held back by a policeman. The girl was being held back by a policeman. The girl was being held back by a policeman.

AVIATOR IS FORCED TO DESCEND

As impossible rumors circulated in the east that his plane might have been tampered with before he started the flight, it was simply a case of the aviator being forced to descend as a result of the vibration, he asserted.

It was 15 hours to the minute when he landed at the Springfield airport, where he was met by a crowd of about 155 miles an hour. He was in the air 13 hours and 9 minutes. Until noon today the flight of Lieutenant Maughan appeared to be destined to be a brilliant success.

At Cheyenne, however, on the western rim of the Rocky mountains, the first attempt of the aviator to land was thrown into the race when Maughan descended, nauseated from the effects of oil fumes which he had inhaled, as a result of the first leak in the oil cooler. Disheartened, Maughan stepped from the plane, and laid down to recuperate, while mechanics worked feverishly to repair the leak.

In 55 minutes the work was completed and Maughan, still slightly ill, resumed his seat in the cockpit and struck out westward on the fourth lap of his journey, with hope rekindled by the belief that he had won out against encroaching darkness by a fast stop at Salduro, Utah, and San Francisco.

He was within 645 miles of the end of his flight and less than two hours from Salduro, the final stopping point, before the last lap of his journey when the new leak in the oil cooler forced him to descend.

The flight, several times cancelled, owing to inclement weather or newly discovered defects in the oil feed line, was a renewal of the unsuccessful attempt which Maughan made on July 9. On that trip he was forced down at Avenue City, Mo., ten miles from St. Joseph, the terminal of the second lap of his flight. A closed oil feed line caused temporary abandonment of plans for the flight.

Carried Newspapers

The trip was being made largely to demonstrate the feasibility of moving aerial war craft from one coast to the other of the United States as a war-time maneuver.

A bundle of newspapers, which was thrown into the cockpit of Maughan's plane just before he took off from Mitchell field at 4:08 o'clock eastern standard time, this morning, was undone, and the papers eagerly scanned by air mail employees at Rock Springs this afternoon. They were the newspapers about which Maughan had said before he departed, "I want to be the first news vendor to sell New York morning newspapers in San Francisco on the evening of the day of their publication."

Winning his way westward, Maughan faced the Atlantic from the board across the Mississippi and Missouri river valleys and toward the Rocky mountains throughout the morning. He arrived at Dayton at 8:35, eastern standard time, 51 minutes behind his tentative schedule. He had covered the first lap of his trip, 570 miles, in four hours 27 minutes.

After his plane had been refueled and examined and he had partaken of a light breakfast, Maughan took the air at 8:35 o'clock and at 11:25 o'clock, central time, arrived at St. Joseph, a distance of 1,140 miles. His plane was examined and tuned up again, and he took off for Dayton at 1:30 p. m. (mountain time), the third stopping point where he landed at 2:32 p. m. (mountain time). Fifty-five minutes later, still suffering from the effects of the nausea which had resulted from the fumes of the leaking oil, he hopped off after the oil leak had been hastily soldered. From Cheyenne to Rock Springs, Maughan drove a plane at a speed of 170 miles an hour for 245 miles. When forced to land at Rock Springs he had come within 645 miles of his goal.

Plans for Joint Probe of Highway Board Approved

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Georgia house of representatives Thursday approved the proposed joint legislative investigation of the state highway department and received new bills which would abolish all twelve agricultural schools in the state and make it a felony to recruit labor in Georgia for other states.

By a vote of 142 to 120 the house adopted Representative McMichael's resolution calling for inquiry into the affairs of the road department after it had, acting through a committee of the whole, rejected a similar resolution sent over from the senate. The McMichael resolution was forwarded to the upper house.

Money now appropriated for state agricultural schools to meet federal Smith-Hughes federal vocational education funds and would be placed an instructor in agriculture in every qualified high school in the state under the bill of Harris, of Jefferson, and Vincent, of Columbus, to discontinue the agricultural schools. The authors told the house that the agricultural schools have served their purpose and now are not rendering service commensurate with appropriations granted them, which approximate a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Labor Recruiting

Representative La Pierre, of Jackson, and Logan, of Berns, in presenting their bill to make labor recruiting a felony, declared enactment of the measure would place the exodus of negroes and other farm labor from Georgia to other states. The bill does not allow licensed labor agents to operate and provides a penalty of from three to seven years' imprisonment.

The fee system disturbance was before the legislature again with a subcommittee of the constitutional amendments committee appointed to consider a measure by the DeKalb county delegation which, as amended by the committee, would permit any county to adopt the salary basis if desired. The measure originally would affect only counties of less than 10,000 population.

The house had before it a resolution sent over by the senate in which the upper body reminded the house it must soon enact some emergency measure to pay salaries of Confederate pensioners and to meet other obligations. The resolution was presented in the senate by President Carswell.

New County Proposed

The house viewed the first move in the present session to create a new Georgia county. Representative Bell, of Burke, presented a bill seeking creation of a new county, to be named after Comer county, with Sardis as the county seat. A similar movement was lost in a past assembly.

Representative Fowler, of Bibb, introduced a measure to reduce the salaries of the judge of Macon's municipal court and other court officials.

Another house speaker Neill's measure providing election of county commissioners of Muscogee by the people, voting 134 to 1. Representative Hatcher, of the Muscogee delegation, spoke in opposition to the measure.

Another bill received by the house, that of Pace and Mundy, would amend the election law, placing in effect immediately the Australian ballot system, striking out provisions requiring such recommendation by two grand juries. A bill by Henderson would strike from the law requiring Bible reading in schools the provision which excuses a pupil from the Bible reading upon written consent of parents or guardian.

Pistol Flashes; "DICERS" DUCK; 12 IN HOSPITAL

Steuvenville, Ohio, July 19.—Twelve of 13 negro laborers who participated in a dice game at the Laubelle Works labor camp here are in the mill hospital today suffering from burns.

The dozen in the hospital were ranged along one side of a table while the thirteen, and wielder of the spotted ivory galleons, faced them on the opposite of "Lucky Luck's" table. One of the twelve with a boarding house reach grabbed for the "pot" of money in the center of the table. "Shooter" No. 13 reached for a pistol. As it flashed 12 men ducked. All sat on a red hot fuel pipe.

Twelve pairs of trousers were ruined and the owners will take their meals standing for some days.

Fastidious Ticket Seller Disappears With Company Funds

New York, July 19.—Arthur Brooke, a ticket agent, known as "the man with the rose," has disappeared with more than $100,000 belonging to the subway company. He had offices in two hotels, advertised largely abroad, and advised his customers when they arrived in New York to look for two things: "The Statue of Liberty and the man with the rose on the pier."

He was formerly a doorman at the British embassy in Washington and regarded this service sufficient to entitle him to have his cards engraved "Mr. Arthur Brooke, formerly with the British mission to the United States."

Officials of steamship companies said today he had sold thousands of dollars' worth of accommodations on the best ships and the last set of checks in payment came back as worthless.

BOND ISSUES HELD NOT AUTHORIZED

and the police station bond resolution which was approved by Attorney Mayson to be in legal force themselves. Copies of the originals are to be introduced as new resolutions at the special meeting of council.

The sewer bonds resolution, however, was said not to be in legal force and a new resolution is to be prepared by Mr. Mayson to be introduced.

Mr. Mayson in his statement Thursday also called attention to the situation that would result if all the bonds were approved by the people. They total nearly $11,000,000 while the city is already bonded for more than $7,400,000 worth of bonds are approved by vote of the people, none of them will be legal and none can be issued and sold.

The pari bonds amount to $2,000,000, the police station bonds to $3,500,000, the waterworks bonds to $1,500,000 and the sewer bonds to $1,450,000.

Of all these, only $7,400,000 can be authorized legally.

GIRL CONFESSES SHE KILLED CHILD

Boston, July 19.—A 13-year-old girl confessed Thursday to the killing of little James ("Sonny") MacDonald, four, who was drowned here under a wharf behind the plant of the Texas Oil company Monday evening.

While the body of "Sonny" was being lowered into a grave at Glenwald cemetery Thursday the girl, Elizabeth McDonald, not related to "Sonny," was carefully questioning to press equal rights with men in holding public offices; that women shall not be disqualified from engaging in any business; that married women shall have the same right of control over individual property as husbands; and other measures aimed toward "equal rights" for women with men.

A joint resolution was introduced in both houses condemning a letter addressed to Mrs. Lillian R. Maugans, postmaster at Eufrasia, in which it is said she made "slurring" remarks against the honor of the Confederate dead. The resolutions asked that she be removed from the office. The bills are sponsored by the national women's party.
